

Water-Resources Reports of the U.S. Geological Survey Texas Water Science Center, 1898–2005

Preface

“Water-resources reports of the USGS Texas Water Science Center, 1898–2005,” is a compilation of the reports prepared by the USGS in (or for) the Texas Water Science Center (WSC) (formerly Texas District). A large majority of the reports are USGS-series reports, which consist of the following (in the order listed):

- Professional papers
- Water-supply papers
- Circulars
- Hydrologic investigations atlases
- Miscellaneous field studies map
- Fact sheets
- Water-resources investigations reports
- Scientific investigations reports
- Scientific investigations maps
- Open-file reports
- Data series
- Water-data reports

In addition are State or cooperator-series reports prepared by the USGS for (in the order listed) the Texas Water Development Board (formerly the Texas Department of Water Resources), the Edwards Underground Water District (currently [2006] the Edwards Aquifer Authority), the Corpus Christi Bay National Estuary Program, and the Texas Department of Transportation.

Despite a dedicated effort to make the compilation comprehensive, undoubtedly some reports inadvertently have been omitted.

The compilation is in portable document format (pdf) at http://tx.usgs.gov/wrr_tx_wsc.pdf. Search for reports by clicking on “Search” and entering keywords from a title or author name.

Information on ordering reports is available at the USGS Publications Warehouse Web site at <http://infotrek.er.usgs.gov/pubs/>.

Copies of selected reports are available on request from the USGS Texas Water Science Center. To request a report,

1. Fill out and submit an electronic “Data Request Form” (Request Regarding: Publications) at USGS Texas -- Contact and Information Request Form, or,
2. E-mail to gs-w-txpublic-info@usgs.gov. Please indicate the report number and include your complete mailing address and telephone number in your e-mail request.
